

Burgas Airport remains open

October 17, 2008

On Monday 29th September 2008 it was announced via the Sofia News Agency that Burgas Airport is to remain open during the winter season, with WizzAir offering flights between Bulgaria's Burgas and London.

These flights will run Sunday to Sunday however more flights will be offered by Wizz during the months of December and January.

This news is long awaited for those that live, visit and have invested in these beautiful parts of Bulgaria, where properties are still affordable, the weather temperature, the cost of living manageable and people charming and hospitable.